Application deadline: March 1, 2013.

CALL FOR PAPERS

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
NCHS/AcademyHealth Health Policy Fellowship. The fellowship program brings visiting scholars in health services research-related disciplines to the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) in Hyattsville, Md. for a period of 13 months to conduct studies of interest to policymakers and the health services research community. Fellows have access to NCHS data resources for use in their proposed studies, and also work on collaborative projects with NCHS staff. Application deadline: January 7, 2013.

Sandell Grant Program. The Center for Retirement Research at Boston College is accepting applications for the 2013 Steven H. Sandell Grant Program. The Sandell Grants provide the opportunity for junior scholars, or senior scholars entering a new field, to pursue projects on retirement income and disability insurance. The program is open to scholars in all academic disciplines. Application deadline: January 31, 2013.

Diffusion of Medical Technology and Effects on Outcomes and Expenditures (U01). This FOA solicits U01 applications for economic research designed to explain the diffusion of health technologies both to understand trends in health outcomes and to improve the process leading from scientific advances to health benefits. Application deadline: February 28, 2013.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Assistant Professor, School of Social and Behavioral Sciences (Sociology), Arizona State University. The New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences at Arizona State University invites applications for the tenure track position of Assistant Professor in Sociology with an emphasis on structures of class inequality. Applicants must have expertise in class inequality in global contexts, including the U.S. Of particular interest are scholars who explore inequality using historic, comparative, extended case and/or institutional ethnographic methods in their research. To qualify applicants must have a PhD in Sociology by August, 2013, evidence of an ongoing research program and level of publication consistent with experience, and evidence of successful college/university teaching. Application deadline: January 7, 2012.

Professor in Statistical Demography, Lund University (Sweden). Lund University announces a new position for a Professor in Statistical Demography. The position is for full time permanent employment and is placed at the Department of Statistics, Lund University School of Economics and Management. Research within this position will be carried out at the Centre for Economic Demography. Application deadline: January 8, 2013.

Postdoctoral Fellow, Population Studies Center, University of Michigan. PSC expects to have openings for postdoctoral fellows sponsored by NIA. Positions to start on or about September 1, 2013. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, public health, or one of the social sciences (e.g., sociology, economics, psychology) at the starting date. Application deadline: January 14, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, National Research University (Russia). The National Research University Higher School of Economics is seeking to make several appointments at the level of Assistant Professor in Sociology – for its Faculty of Sociology in Moscow or the HSE branches in St. Petersburg, Nizhny Novgorod, and Perm. We welcome candidates with excellent backgrounds in all sub-fields and a proven ability to conduct high-level research based upon empirical techniques using appropriate research designs and methods. A working knowledge of Russian would be an asset although teaching will be in English. The tenure-track appointments will start in September 2013, for 3 years in the first instance. Application deadline: January 15, 2013.
Assistant/Associate Professor Positions in Public Health, Stony Brook University. The Program in Public Health at Stony Brook University is seeking two outstanding individuals at the Assistant/Associate Professor level to add depth to our core public health mission. Preferred Qualifications: Degree from an accredited Program or School of Public Health. Experience in Health Communication, Community Health, Epidemiology, Environmental Health, Health Policy, Health Behavior, Program Evaluation, Cancer, Cardiovascular Disease, Minority Health and Health Disparities, and Community Engaged or Community based Participatory Research. Experience working on multidisciplinary, collaborative population health projects. Postdoctoral training. Application deadline: January 15, 2013.

Two (2 positions), Open Rank Professors, tenure-track, University at Albany. The Center for Social and Demographic Analysis (CSDA) of the University at Albany (SUNY) announces a search for two demographers. Both lines are tenure track with discipline and rank open. Applicants should complement the existing strengths of CSDA in migration, segregation, spatial demography, biodemography, population and environment, reproduction, aging and health. Candidates are expected to have well developed funded or fundable research agendas, and to participate in CSDA programs and governance. The lines (and tenure) will be housed in the department of the candidate’s choice, and carry the standard teaching and service load for that department. Application deadline: January 20, 2013.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Duke Population Research Institute. The purpose of this postdoctoral research training program, sponsored by a training grant from the National Institute on Aging, is to provide rigorous training in the general fields of social, medical, and economic demography of aging. Application deadline: January 28, 2013.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center for Research on Race and Ethnicity in Society (CRRES), Indiana University. The CRRES fellowship program aims to create a legacy of qualified scholars who will be positioned to address the broad issue of race and ethnicity through a multidisciplinary lens. Appropriate areas of specialization include: (1) immigration, immigrant politics, and/or immigrant experiences; (2) race in electoral politics; (3) race, ethnicity, and religion; (4) health disparities, health policy, and health economics; (5) racial attitudes; (6) U.S. minorities and social movements; and (7) social inequality. Application deadline: January 30, 2013.

Junior Professor in Sociology of Education and Family, University of Mannheim. The School of Social Sciences at the University of Mannheim invites applications for a Junior Professor in Sociology of Education and Family (W1) to be filled as soon as possible. We seek a scholar with an innovative research agenda and internationally visible publications in the field of sociology of family and/or education. The successful candidate should be committed to outstanding teaching in both fields and related courses offered in the B.A. and M.A./Ph.D. programs in sociology. Contributions to the research activities at the Mannheim Centre for European Social Research (MZES) are expected. Application deadline: January 31, 2013.

Fred H. Bixby Fellowship Program. Through a generous grant from the Fred H. Bixby Foundation, the Population Council created the Bixby Fellowship Program to expand opportunities for recently trained social scientists and biomedical researchers in the health and population fields. More than 20 fellows have participated in the program since 2007, and applications are currently being sought for the 2013 competition. Bixby fellowships allow citizens of developing countries to work with experienced mentors in the Council's international network of offices. Fellows work on projects in the Council’s three program areas: Reproductive Health, HIV/AIDS, and Poverty, Gender and Youth. Application deadline: January 31, 2013.

NIH Postdoctoral Fellowship, Office of Population Research at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University invites applications for an NIH postdoctoral fellowship. Candidates must have completed an MD or a PhD in demography, sociology, statistics, or other relevant field prior to the start of the appointment. Applicants for this NIH fellowship must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Appointment is for one year, with possibility of renewal based on satisfactory performance and continued funding, and a start date of September 2013. Application deadline: February 1, 2013.

Postdoctoral Fellowship in Anthropology, Population Studies and Training Center and the Cogut Center, Brown University. Brown University invites applications for a Postdoctoral Fellowship in the International Humanities. The Department of Anthropology, the Population Studies and Training Center and the Cogut Center for the Humanities seek a scholar with a theoretically and methodologically innovative approach to studying international humanitarianism. Application deadline: February 15, 2013.

Postdoctoral Fellowship in Asia Health Policy, Stanford University. The Asia Health Policy Program (AHPP) of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce a Postdoctoral Fellowship in Asia Health Policy for 2013-2014. The primary focus on the fellowship is on research about contemporary health or healthcare in two or more countries of the Asia-Pacific, including the social and economic implications of demographic change. We welcome applications from junior scholars (Ph.D. conferred after 2009 and by August 31, 2013) from a variety of social science disciplines. Application deadline: February 15, 2013.

RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging. The RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging enables outstanding junior scholars in demographic and aging research to sharpen their analytic skills, learn to communicate research results effectively, and advance their research agenda. Housed within RAND Labor and Population, the program blends formal and informal training and extensive collaboration with distinguished researchers in a variety of disciplines. Fellowships are for one year, renewable for a second. Each fellow receives a competitive annual stipend, travel stipend and health insurance. Application deadline: February 22, 2013.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student’s special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

IIASA Young Scientists Summer Program 2013. Summer Fellowship in Austria for Doctoral Students in Natural and Social Sciences, Math, Policy and Engineering. Each summer, the International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis (IIASA), located in Schloss Laxenburg near Vienna, Austria, hosts a selected group of graduate students, primarily doctoral, from around the world in its Young Scientists Summer Program (YSSP). These students work closely with IIASA’s senior scientists on projects within the Institute’s 3 theme areas. Application deadline: January 14, 2013.

2013-2014 IAF Fellowship Competition. Fellowships are available to currently registered students who have advanced to candidacy (by the time research begins) for the Ph.D. in the social sciences, physical sciences, technical fields and the professions as related to grassroots development issues. Awards are based on both development and scholarly criteria. Proposals should offer a practical orientation to field-based information. Application deadline: January 22, 2013.

Presidential Fellowship in Sociology, State Policy, Migration & Gender, Utah State University. The Sociology Program at Utah State University seeks applicants for a Presidential Doctoral Research Fellow with research interests in state policy, migration and gender. The Presidential Fellow will receive an annual stipend of $20,000 for four years. Qualified applicants will have an MS in sociology or a related field, GRE scores above the 70th percentile and a cumulative GPA above 3.5. The Presidential Fellow will work closely with sociology faculty on one of several on-going research projects related to policy, migration and gender. Application deadline: February 1, 2013.

International Research Travel Grant. The Mario Einaudi Center and its associated Programs sponsor the International Research Travel Grants. These grants provide travel support for Cornell University graduate students conducting short-term research and/or field work in countries outside the United States. Applicants must be enrolled in an approved PhD or Masters degree program at Cornell University. They must also show proof that they have applied for funding from the Director of Graduate Studies in their own fields of study. Application deadline: Early February, 2013.
