CALL FOR PAPERS

Call for Papers: Health, Education and Retirement over the Prolonged Life Cycle, Submission deadline: June 30, 2013.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Short Courses on Innovative Methodologies in the Behavioral and Social Sciences (R25). The NIH Research Education (R25) grant mechanism is designed to support the development of creative and innovative research education programs for the development of biomedical, behavioral, and clinical researchers, or for public education and outreach on health-related research to a variety of audiences. Application deadline: July 3, 2013 (5:00 pm EST).

Request for Proposals: Stars in Global Health. Grand Challenges Canada is seeking proposals for Stars in Global Health (Round 6 Phase I), a program looking for innovators with bold ideas with big impact to address real-world global health challenges. Application deadline: July 30, 2013 (3:00pm EST).

Research on the Role of Epigenetics in Social, Behavioral, Environmental and Biological Relationships, throughout the Life-Span and across Generations (R21). OppNet initiatives invite investigators to propose innovative research that will advance basic social and behavioral sciences and produce knowledge and/or tools of potential relevance to multiple domains of health- and life course-related research. Application deadline: November 13, 2013.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Senior Sociologist, Labor and Population, RAND Corporation. RAND’s Labor and Population Division is seeking mid-level and senior-level researchers to conduct high-quality, cutting-edge social demographic research as part of the RAND Population Research Center (PRC). (Job ID 3266.) Ph.D. in Sociology, Demography, Family Studies, Public Policy, or related fields. Open until filled.

Postdoctoral Fellow, Texas A&M University. The Departments of Statistics and Sociology, in conjunction with the Institute for Applied Mathematics and Computational Science at Texas A&M University, seeks a postdoctoral fellow to assist in the analysis of educational outcomes data. Candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in statistics, sociology or a related field. Contact Valen Johnson. Open until filled.

Research and Metrics Advisor, Pathfinder International. The Research and Metrics Advisor (13-019-RMU) is responsible for collaborating with other Unit members to develop and implement Pathfinder’s data collection and evaluation strategy and work plan. An advanced degree in demography, epidemiology, statistics, social sciences or related field. Open until filled.
Information Resources and Services Specialist 3, Penn State Population Research Institute. The Research Data Manager (39432) is responsible for providing restricted data contract management and support to faculty and students; acting as liaison between researchers and data distributors and relevant Penn State stakeholders; enforcing strict security protocols for restricted data use; assisting with IRB application submissions; managing acquisition and updates to secondary data collections on Population Research Institute networks; consulting with researchers to evaluate data needs and locate and obtain demographic data; developing and providing instruction and guidance on a range of data related topics; and representing the Population Research Institute at local and national meetings. Open until filled.

Gates Fellow, Global Health Program. We are seeking Fellows with exceptional qualifications across a variety of backgrounds, to join beginning in Fall 2013, to contribute to program teams in Global Health. Fellows at the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation will work in close collaboration with foundation employees to support research, evaluation of strategic priorities, grant projects and initiatives. Fellows will be a part of a two year cohort that will work on a range of responsibilities. Those with an advanced degree (MD, PhD, PharmD) and also have experience in global health or development are highly encouraged to apply. Open until filled.

Qualitative Research Scientist. Child Trends has an opening for a Qualitative Research Scientist responsible for conducting qualitative research projects on reproductive health (e.g., adolescent and young adult sexual activity; contraceptive behaviors and decision-making; pregnancy; childbearing intentions; health delivery, etc.) and family formation (e.g., union formation and stability; relationship dynamics, etc.) in collaboration with senior staff members. Research studies in this area place special emphasis on racial/ethnic minorities, in particular Latinos, and low-income families. Open until filled.

Assistant/Associate Professor, Duke University-NUS Graduate Medical School Singapore. The Duke-NUS HSSR Program is recruiting faculty at the Assistant/Associate Professor level. In particular, HSSR is seeking researchers whose prime interest involves one of the following three research areas: aging; implementation and evaluation; and modeling of health systems, services and policies. This tenure-track/tenured position(s) represents an outstanding opportunity to become a high impact investigator in Singapore. Application deadline: June 30, 2013.

National Institutes of Health (NIH), Ruth Kirschstein National Research Service Awards (NRSA) for Individual Postdoctoral Fellows. Awards for postdoctoral scholars for training experiences in biomedical and behavioral research. Awards are made to individual applicants for specific training proposals. Individuals may receive up to 3 years of aggregate Kirschstein-NRSA support. Submission deadline: August 8, 2013.

Private Sector Healthcare Initiative Postdoctoral Fellow (Job# 6674), The Global Health Group (UCSF). The Global Health Group’s Private Sector Healthcare Initiative (PSHi) works to advance the understanding of private sector healthcare provision in developing countries. The Private Sector Healthcare Initiative (PSHi) is seeking an experienced researcher, writer, and statistician to spearhead the analysis and publication of results from the Maternal, Neonatal, and Child Care-Seeking (MNCCS) study. The fellowship will require some travel, including visits to Africa and Asia. A recent or pending doctorate degree in public health, demography, epidemiology, or related field required. Candidates with prior experience with statistical analyses of large datasets are sought, and experienced in mixed-methodologies preferred. To apply or for more information on this position, please forward a CV and a cover letter describing your relevant experience and qualifications to Dr. May Sudhinaraset. Submission deadline: September 7, 2013.

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Health & Society Scholars. Up to 12 scholars will be selected for two-year appointments beginning in the fall of 2014. Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $80,000. To be eligible, scholars must have completed doctoral training by the time of entry into the program (September 2014) in one of a variety of fields, including, but not limited to, the behavioral and social sciences; the biological and natural sciences; health professions; public policy; public health; history; demography; environmental sciences; urban planning; and engineering. Applications available: July 17, 2013. Submission deadline: September 20, 2013 (5:00pm ET).

PAA Fellowship. The Population Association of America is delighted to offer an exciting opportunity for PAA members: participation in the prestigious Science and Technology Fellowship Program of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). This fellowship brings researchers to Washington, DC to use population science, outside of the academic setting, to inform public policy and work for one year in a federal agency. The fellowship pays a competitive salary. Application Period: September 1 to December 15, 2013. Fellowship Term: September 1, 2013 to August 31, 2014.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student’s special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

APPAM Call for Abstracts: PDW Mentoring Sessions at the 2013 Fall Research Conference. APPAM is requesting abstracts from doctoral students for a competitive mentoring session opportunity as part of its inaugural Professional Development Workshop (PDW) for Doctoral Students, to be held on November 6, one day prior to the official opening of APPAM’s 2013 Fall Research Conference in Washington, D.C., on November 7-9, 2013. Submission deadline: July 15, 2013.

2014 RWJ Health Policy Doctoral Fellowship. The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF) Center for Health Policy at the Meharry Medical College will award up to five new doctoral fellowships for its Health Policy Fellows Program. The Health Policy Fellows Program is a prestigious doctoral fellowship program for students with educational and research interests that include health and health policy analysis and research. The RWJF Health Policy Fellows Program seeks to increase the participation of underrepresented groups throughout the nation in the development, implementation, and analysis of health policy. Priority deadline: January 15, 2014.
