EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Associate Director, Stanford Center on Poverty and Inequality. The Associate Director oversees a growing program of poverty and inequality research, an innovative graduate and undergraduate training laboratory, and an active program for disseminating key trends in poverty and inequality. A rare opportunity to join one of the cutting-edge centers of poverty and inequality scholarship. Application deadline: Open until filled.

Senior Editor, Stanford Center on Poverty and Inequality. The new Senior Editor will join David Grusky, the Center’s Director, as the coeditor of Pathways, a rapidly growing magazine devoted to disseminating the most important poverty and inequality research. The Center’s editor is also responsible for developing content for the Center’s main website (www.inequality.com) and for its Recession Trends initiative. Application deadline: Open until filled.

Senior Demographer/Public Health Researcher, ICF. ICF’s International Health and Development (IHD) Division seeks a Senior Demographer/Public Health Researcher to work in our Calverton, Maryland office. Our division conducts research, survey design, and monitoring and evaluation projects in a wide range of content areas including maternal and child health, vulnerable populations, demographics, family planning, HIV/AIDS, TB, Malaria, nutrition, food safety, and climate change. Ph.D. in demography, epidemiology, international health, or similar discipline. Application deadline: Open until filled.

Board Director, Committee on Population, The National Academies. As part of the senior management team within the Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, the Director of the Committee on Population is responsible for designing and executing a program of work aimed at strengthening science-based population policy both domestically and internationally. The Director will need to have a keen interest in and broad knowledge of domestic and international population issues and substantial experience working at the intersection of research, policy, and practice. A doctorate in demography, sociology, or a related social science and at least ten years of related professional experience are required. Application deadline: Open until filled.

Senior Research Associate University of Cambridge – Department of Geography. We invite applications for the post of Senior Research Associate to work with Professor Emily Grundy and collaborators in the University of Cambridge on a programme of research focused on ageing and health in contemporary populations. Applicants should have a PhD in demography, epidemiology or related quantitative social science; experience of managing and analysing large scale longitudinal data sets using appropriate statistical software (preferably STATA), proven ability to lead or contribute to peer reviewed research publications, presentations and grant applications and demonstrated potential as a research leader. Application deadline: August 10, 2012.

Director of Socio-Economic Research Institute CEPS/INSTEAD in Luxembourg. CEPS/INSTEAD is seeking to recruit a new director with a two-fold responsibility: Next to providing day-to-day scientific and administrative leadership and management, the future incumbent will offer strategic leadership and vision for its change process to create a healthy, modern, and striving research institution. Application deadline: August 17, 2012.

Postdoctoral Fellow, George Mason University. The George Mason University, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Institute for Immigration Research (IIR) invites applications for a one-year, renewable position as a Postdoctoral Fellow with a background in sociology, economics, demography, or a related field. The IIR is a newly formed, privately funded initiative to explore the contributions of immigrants to the U.S. economy. Application deadline: August 25, 2012.

MZES Research Fellowship, University of Mannheim. The MZES is an interdisciplinary research institute of the University of Mannheim dedicated to comparative European social research and the analysis of European integration processes. It is Germany’s largest university-based social-science research centre. The Centre seeks to recruit an outstanding social scientist as a Research Fellow to work in Research Department A »European Societies and their Integration«. Successful candidates are expected to publish in international academic journals. They should develop and direct projects in one of the department’s three research areas and attract research grants. Application deadline: September 8, 2012.

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor position, Diversity and Democracy, UC Berkeley. The University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a position as an Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in any, or some combination, of the following areas: 1) diversity and identity; 2) diversity, civil society and political action; or 3) legal or philosophical frameworks for diverse democracies. The anticipated starting date is July 1, 2013. The position is part of the interdisciplinary Haas Diversity Research Center (HDRC) and will be conducted under the auspices of its Diversity and Democracy cluster. Application deadline: September 17, 2012.

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Health & Society Scholars. The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Health & Society Scholars program provides two years of support to postdoctoral scholars at all stages of their careers to build the nation’s capacity for research and leadership to address the multiple determinants of population health and contribute to policy change. The program is based on the principle that progress in the field of population health depends upon multidisciplinary collaboration and exchange. Application deadline: September 21, 2012, 3:00 p.m. EDT.

Associate or Full Professor of Demography, University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA). The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) has an opening for an Associate or Full Professor in the Department of Demography to begin Fall 2013. The successful applicant will have an outstanding publication record indicating national/international prominence; a strong record of acquisition of extramural funding; a record of teaching and student mentoring; and a strong commitment to teaching. The Department of Demography only offers a Ph.D. program, and all courses offered are at the Ph.D. level. Appointment will be in the Department of Demography within the College of Public Policy (COPP), with opportunities for involvement in research at the Institute for Demographic and Socioeconomic Research. Application deadline: October 1, 2012.

Assistant Professor of Anthropology, Brown University. The Department of Anthropology at Brown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in socio-cultural anthropology with a specific focus in population studies. The geographical area is open, but expertise on Africa, Asia, or the Middle East is a plus. The successful candidate will be expected to participate actively in Brown’s Population Studies and Training Center, including pursuing an active research agenda and teaching and supervising graduate students in the department’s anthropology and population track. Application deadline: October 1, 2012.
Associate Professor/Advanced Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Utah. The Department of Sociology at the University of Utah invites applications for a tenured Associate Professor or tenure-track advanced Assistant Professor to begin July, 2013. We are seeking a sociologist who will contribute to the Department’s specialty in Population and Health. The successful applicant will have a strong record of success in research, including extramural funding and an accomplished record of scholarly publication. Preference will be given to candidates whose research focuses on medical sociology, family sociology, fertility, population aging, migration, social epidemiology, statistical methods in population research, or other areas which complement current faculty interests. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to teaching and mentoring students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Application deadline: October 5, 2012.

Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Population Studies/Demography at University of Minnesota. The University of Minnesota invites applications for two open-rank, full-time, tenure-track or tenured faculty positions. We seek demographers or population researchers who can actively contribute to the research and training missions of the University, the Minnesota Population Center (MPC), and affiliated colleges and academic units. For each position, the tenure home will be in Applied Economics, Geography, History, Public Affairs, Public Health (Epidemiology and Community Health and Health Policy and Management), Sociology or another unit affiliated with the MPC. Application deadline: October 15, 2012.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

DSOC/PAM 6720 - Demography Pro Seminar. The Demography Pro Seminar is offered in the fall and is taught by CPC faculty affiliates. The course is required if you are interested in the Demography Minor. Please contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic if you have any questions.

Fall 2012 CPC Graduate Student Reading Group. If you're interested in participating in a demography/population studies reading group during this upcoming fall semester, please email Brian Thiede in the next couple of weeks. It should involve minimal commitment and be a good learning opportunity.

Fulbright Competition. The Fulbright Program of the U.S. Department of State is administered on the Cornell campus by the Mario Einaudi Center’s Fulbright Adviser. These grants for study or research abroad are awarded on a nationally competitive basis to U.S. citizens who are graduate students or will have earned the bachelor’s degree prior to September of the year for which the grant is being awarded. Application deadline: September 6, 2012.

International Research Travel Grant. Receive funding for travel abroad to conduct graduate research. The Mario Einaudi Center and its associated Programs sponsor the International Research Travel Grants. These grants provide travel support for Cornell University graduate students conducting short-term research and/or field work in countries outside the United States. Applicants must be enrolled in an approved PhD or Masters degree program at Cornell University. They must also show proof that they have applied for funding from the Director of Graduate Studies in their own fields of study. Application deadline: Early February, 2013.
