EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Open Rank Professor of Population Studies/Demography, University of Minnesota. The University of Minnesota invites applications for two or three open-rank, full-time, tenure-track or tenured faculty positions. We seek demographers or population researchers who can actively contribute to the research and training missions of the University, the Minnesota Population Center (MPC), and its affiliated colleges and academic units. For each position, the tenure home will be in Applied Economics, Geography, History, Public Affairs, Public Health (Epidemiology and Community Health and Health Policy and Management), Sociology or another unit affiliated with the MPC. Ordinarily appointments will be in a single tenure home, not split across units. We seek demographers with established or emerging lines of high-quality population research. That research may be on any number of substantive areas within demography including (but not limited to) fertility, mortality, migration, historical demography, labor force dynamics, household and family dynamics, education and human capital, population and the environment, neighborhoods and urbanization, aging, and population approaches to health disparities and health policy. Successful applicants will be expected to continue and expand their own independent research initiatives and to work with others to cultivate new interdisciplinary collaborations. Open until filled.
Health Administrative; Office of Behavioral and Social Sciences Research, NIH. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) Office of Behavioral and Social Sciences Research (OBSSR) is recruiting a dynamic behavioral or social scientist to serve as a Health Scientist Administrator. Behavioral sciences include all areas of psychology, psychobiology, cognitive science, and social work. Social sciences encompass sociology, economics, public health, anthropology, demography and political science. Open until filled.

RDC Administrator, The Pennsylvania State University Census Research Data Center. During Fall 2013 the Census Bureau will fill a position for a Research Data Center Administrator at the Pennsylvania State University Census Research Data Center (PSUCRDC), University Park, PA. Penn State is in the process of establishing a secure Census Bureau computing lab at the University Park campus. The person in this position will assist researchers from many disciplines, including economics, geography, health policy, sociology, and demography who are using demographic, economic, and health data sets in the RDC environment. Familiarity with social science research methodology is needed and experience in managing and performing quantitative analyses using large census and survey data sets is a plus. If you are interested in this position, contact Mark Roberts, Professor of Economics and Director of the PSUCRDC.

Research and Policy Analyst, Demographics & Workforce Group, University of Virginia. The Demographics & Workforce Group of the University of Virginia’s Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service wish to expand our public service capabilities by attracting top quality professionals interested in demographic research and its application to public discourse and policy. The position (#:0612864) requires a graduate degree in demography, sociology, economics, geography, statistics, public policy, or related fields. Proficiency in SAS, STATA or R is required. Open until filled.

Postdoctoral Research Fellowship, University of Minnesota Schools of Public Health and Medicine. The University of Minnesota Schools of Public Health and Medicine announce the availability of a postdoctoral research education fellowship position (job #185409) in Cancer Disparities. This education and career development program is funded by the National Cancer Institute. Eligible candidates should have a doctoral degree in any of the following disciplines: medicine, behavioral science, epidemiology, health education, health services research, sociology, anthropology, clinical, social or counseling psychology or a related discipline. Preferred candidates will have experience and peer-reviewed publications in above disciplines. Open until filled.

Associate/Full Professor - Healthcare Policy & Research, Virginia Commonwealth University. VCU's Department of Healthcare Policy and Research (HCPR) invites applications for a tenure-track Associate/Full Professor position in health services research, health economics, or health policy. Open until filled.

Research Assistant/Analyst, U.S. Programs, Population Reference Bureau (PRB). PRB seeks a research assistant/analyst who will be responsible for compiling and analyzing data on U.S. demographic issues. Compile and analyze data from a broad range of data sources, including the Census Bureau's American Community Survey, the National Center for Health Statistics, and state-specific data sources. Open until filled.

Associate Professor/Professor of Population, Family and Reproductive Health, Johns Hopkins University. The Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health, PFRH, seeks a demographer to fill a tenure track position of Associate Professor or Professor. The successful applicant will have an established reputation in demography, a history of: academic service, innovative research, a demonstrated excellence in teaching and advising, and solid funding support. Applicants should have published in one or more of the following demography areas: family, urban, poverty, geriatric, fertility, sexual behavior, migration, mortality, demographic methods, reproductive health, and biodemography. Open until filled.
Tenure Track Assistant Professor of Sociology, Skidmore College. Skidmore College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Sociology at the Assistant Professor level, to begin September 2014. We seek a quantitative sociologist who will teach social research methods and statistics, and who can contribute to our offerings in one or more of the following areas: Deviance, International/Global Sociology, Medical Sociology, Sociology of Media (broadly understood), and Sociology of Sexualities. Open until filled.
