EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Open Rank Professor of Population Studies/Demography, University of Minnesota. The University of Minnesota invites applications for two or three open-rank, full-time, tenure-track or tenured faculty positions. We seek demographers or population researchers who can actively contribute to the research and training missions of the University, the Minnesota Population Center (MPC), and its affiliated colleges and academic units. We seek demographers with established or emerging lines of high-quality population research. That research may be on any number of substantive areas within demography including (but not limited to) fertility, mortality, migration, historical demography, labor force dynamics, household and family dynamics, education and human capital, population and the environment, neighborhoods and urbanization, aging, and population approaches to health disparities and health policy. Open until filled.

International Researchers, Mathematica Policy Research. Researchers will join Mathematica’s Center for International Policy Research and Evaluation (CIPRE) and contribute to CIPRE’s rapidly growing portfolio of impact evaluations of interventions in education, health, agriculture, and infrastructure in various countries across the globe. The position may be filled in any of our six offices located in Ann Arbor, Cambridge, Chicago, Princeton, Oakland, and Washington, DC. Open until filled.

Health Administrative; Office of Behavioral and Social Sciences Research, NIH. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) Office of Behavioral and Social Sciences Research (OBSSR) is recruiting a dynamic behavioral or social scientist to serve as a Health Scientist Administrator. Behavioral sciences include all areas of psychology, psychobiology, cognitive science, and social work. Social sciences encompass sociology, economics, public health, anthropology, demography and political science. Open until filled.

RDC Administrator, The Pennsylvania State University Census Research Data Center. During Fall 2013 the Census Bureau will fill a position for a Research Data Center Administrator at the Pennsylvania State University Census Research Data Center (PSUCRDC), University Park, PA. Penn State is in the process of establishing a secure Census Bureau computing lab at the University Park campus. The person in this position will assist researchers from many disciplines, including economics, geography, health policy, sociology, and demography who are using demographic, economic, and health data sets in the RDC environment. Familiarity with social science research methodology is needed and experience in managing and performing quantitative analyses using large census and survey data sets is a plus. If you are interested in this position, contact Mark Roberts, Professor of Economics and Director of the PSUCRDC.

Research and Policy Analyst, Demographics & Workforce Group, University of Virginia. The Demographics & Workforce Group of the University of Virginia’s Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service wish to expand our public service capabilities by attracting top quality professionals interested in demographic research and its application to public discourse and policy. The position (#0612864) requires a graduate degree in demography, sociology, economics, geography, statistics, public policy, or related fields. Proficiency in SAS, STATA or R is required. Open until filled.

Associate/Full Professor - Healthcare Policy & Research, Virginia Commonwealth University. VCU's Department of Healthcare Policy and Research (HCPR) invites applications for a tenure-track Associate/Full Professor position in health services research, health economics, or health policy. Open until filled.

Research Assistant/Analyst, U.S. Programs, Population Reference Bureau (PRB). PRB seeks a research assistant/analyst who will be responsible for compiling and analyzing data on U.S. demographic issues. Compile and analyze data from a broad range of data sources, including the Census Bureau's American Community Survey, the National Center for Health Statistics, and state-specific data sources. Open until filled.

Regional Monitoring and Evaluation Advisor, UNICEF. The Regional Monitoring and Evaluation Advisor (P5 level; Reference #E-VN-2013-001668), provides authoritative advice and cutting-edge technical expertise to the Regional Director, Deputy Regional Director, Country Offices and governments of their region in the development of policies, strategies and systems in the area of Child Rights Monitoring and Evaluation. Submission deadline: September 25, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Aging and Health Disparities, University of Rhode Island. The University of Rhode Island (URI) announces a Cluster Hire Initiative on Aging and Health under the sponsorship of the Office of the Provost to expand its interdisciplinary research and educational programs. This position (job posting #6001138) will focus on health disparities related to inequalities (e.g., race, ethnicity, income, gender, and sexual orientation) and their intersection with age. This tenure-track position will have a joint appointment in two appropriate academic departments. Submission deadline: September 30, 2013.

Professor of Health Care Policy, Harvard Medical School. The Department of Health Care Policy, Harvard Medical School, is seeking a Professor of Health Care Policy, although highly qualified associate professors will be considered. The individual must have an advanced degree in any of the social sciences, preferably economics. Submission deadline: September 30, 2013.

Open Rank Professor of Sociology, The Pennsylvania State University. The Department of Sociology and Criminology, University Park campus, invites applications for a tenure-line position in the sociology department to begin August, 2014. The rank and area of specialty are open. We especially welcome candidates who use innovative approaches (e.g., analysis of Big Data, social network analysis) to address key questions in the discipline. Candidates should have a strong publication record and a commitment to securing external funding and teaching and mentoring students. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Global Public Health, University of Michigan. The Department of Health Behavior and Health Education at the University of Michigan School of Public Health invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in global public health to begin September 1, 2014. Candidates must have a doctorate degree in the social/behavioral sciences (e.g., public health, psychology, sociology) or a field with direct application to global public health (e.g., international studies, health informatics). Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of California, Irvine. UCI Sociology Department announces recruitment for one tenure-track position at the assistant professor level. We welcome applicants in all sub-fields, especially those with expertise in population and demography. We seek candidates with a strong publication profile and a well-defined research agenda. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant/Associate Professor - Population and Environment, Cornell University. The Department of Development Sociology in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University is seeking applicants for a 9 month tenure track position focusing on population and environment (Job # 20981). Responsibilities: This position has 50% teaching and 50% research responsibilities. Qualified applicants must have a demonstrated record of scholarship that focuses on the interrelationships of population dynamics and the changing biophysical environment. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor – Child Health Policy, Cornell University. The Department of Policy Analysis and Management in the College of Human Ecology is seeking to hire faculty with particular interest in child health and wellbeing, for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at any level: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor (Job # 18823). Research responsibilities (50%) include empirical research in child health and wellbeing, related to our areas of expertise including family policy, social policy, health policy, and education policy. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of South Carolina. The Department of Sociology at the University of South Carolina invites applications for an Assistant Professor of Sociology. We are seeking scholars who can teach courses in sociology of the family and are particularly interested in candidates who can also contribute in areas of health and well-being, gender, social psychology, and/or methods. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Open Rank, Department of Sociology, Brigham Young University. The Department of Sociology seeks applications to fill a full time, continuing faculty status position beginning Fall 2014. All academic ranks and areas of specialization will be considered. Qualifications include a PhD in sociology, a well-defined research agenda, professional publications, and a strong interest in both undergraduate and graduate teaching. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Sociology & Gerontology, Miami University. Miami University’s Department of Sociology & Gerontology, in conjunction with the Scripps Gerontology Center, welcomes applicants for a tenure-track appointment at the assistant or associate professor level beginning August 2014 (Job #0002168). Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Open Rank Professor of Sociology (Population and Health), Ohio State University-Columbus. The Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure track position (open rank) in the fields of population and health, broadly defined, to commence Fall 2014. We seek candidates who will broaden or strengthen our existing repertoire of methodological expertise. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology (Globalization and Social Change), Ohio State University-Columbus. The Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure track position in the fields of globalization and social change, broadly defined, at the Assistant Professor level to commence Fall 2014. We seek candidates who will broaden or strengthen our existing repertoire of methodological expertise. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology (Criminology), Ohio State University-Columbus. The Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure track criminology position at the Assistant Professor level to commence Fall 2014. We seek candidates who will broaden or strengthen our existing repertoire of methodological expertise. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Methods and Statistics, Department of Sociology, Grinnell College. Tenure-track position in the Department of Sociology (methods, statistics, area open), starting Fall 2014. Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD) or Associate Professor possible. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

MacArthur Professorship in Public Policy, Bucknell University. The Departments of Economics and Political Science and the School of Management invite applications for a newly created open-rank, tenure-track faculty position to begin August 2014. The successful candidate will be committed to teaching undergraduate social science methods using quantitative and/or qualitative approaches. Additional desirable research and/or teaching areas are sustainability, possibly in the areas of energy or health policy. The MacArthur Professor ideally will involve students in addressing pressing 21st century public policy challenges, particularly the impact on underrepresented populations. Submission deadline: October 1, 2013.

(3) Assistant Professor of Sociology, LSU. The LSU Department of Sociology invites applications for three tenure-track assistant professor positions beginning August 2014. We seek applicants with specializations in environment/natural resources, community/social capital, and criminology/law in order to enhance our existing strengths in these areas. Candidates should show promise of developing a strong record of publications; potential for research funding is also desirable. Submission deadline: October 11, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of British Columbia. The Department of Sociology in the Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-stream faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor. The successful candidate will have broad interests in international, global, and/or comparative sociology with a focus on Indigenous Peoples, Environment/Sustainability, and/or Asia Pacific studies. Submission deadline: October 15, 2013.
Assistant Professor of Sociology, Baylor University. The Department of Sociology is recruiting a tenure-track sociologist for August, 2014. Preferred career stage is advanced assistant. We seek a generalist with expertise in at least two of the following areas: deviance, criminology, quantitative methods, health, demography, stratification, family. Submission deadline: October 15, 2013.

Post-doctoral Fellowship in Human Capital Interventions in Development Academic Years, UC Irvine. The School of Education at the University of California, Irvine is hiring a postdoctoral fellow for two years beginning with the 2014-15 academic year. The fellowship includes a salary of $50,000 per year, plus health insurance, and funding for conference travel, professional development, and a computer fund. Postdoctoral fellows will join an interdisciplinary research team housed in the School of Education and led by faculty with appointments in the UCI School of Education and Department of Economics and Vanderbilt's Department of Economics. The heart of the research opportunities provided to fellows is a five-year NICHD-funded program project (P01) that was awarded to the University of California, Irvine (PI: Duncan). The program project’s principal goal is to understand why human capital intervention programs and policies, directed at children in the preschool, middle childhood and adolescent stages of development, have the effects, non-effects and, in some cases, perverse effects that they do. Submission deadline: October 23, 2013.

Open Rank Professor of Sociology, American University. The Department of Sociology at American University (Washington, D.C.), College of Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a tenure line appointment beginning in August 2014. In conjunction with the development of a departmental focus in health and the newly established Center on Health, Risk and Society, the department seeks candidates with a primary area of specialization in the social dimensions of health and well-being. Areas of specialization to complement teaching and research on health, as well as the strengths of the department include: globalization, migration, inequalities, sexuality, and/or urban communities. While all areas of health will be considered, particular health foci in the department and at the Center include HIV/AIDS, food/obesity, environment, maternal and child health, and substance use/abuse. Submission deadline: October 23, 2013.
