CALL FOR PAPERS

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

ISS Theme Projects: Call for 2012-2015 Preproposals. The Institute for the Social Sciences (ISS) is now accepting preproposals for its 2012-2015 theme project. Application deadline: 3:00 pm on Monday, October 17, 2011.

Basic research on decision making: Cognitive, affective, and developmental perspectives (R01). This Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) encourages research grant applications that propose to increase understanding of the basic cognitive, affective, motivational, and social processes that underlie decision making across the lifespan. Letter of intent due: December 18, 2011 and application due: January 18, 2012.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Chair, Department of Sociology, University of Utah. The Department of Sociology at the University of Utah invites applications for an outstanding senior scholar to chair the Department beginning July 1, 2012. The ideal applicant will have an active program of research that complements the two departmental foci: Comparative International Sociology or the Sociology of Population and Health. Prior administrative experience is also desired. Application deadline: October 15, 2011.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The Department of Sociology at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor (110570) beginning August, 2012. We encourage applications from candidates who have demonstrated potential for excellence in research and teaching in family, demography, health, social inequality, or related fields. Application deadline: October 15, 2011.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Southern California. The Department of Sociology in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Sociology position in the area of Social Demography, with an anticipated start date of Fall 2012. We seek applicants trained in rigorous quantitative methods and/or formal modeling. Our department has strengths in gender, race, immigration, family, and life course. Application deadline: October 15, 2011.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Cincinnati. The Department of Sociology invites applicants for tenure-track positions in urban inequality to begin August 1, 2012. Two positions will be at the Assistant Professor level (#211UC1629). Application deadline for the assistant professor positions: October 16, 2011.

Open Rank Faculty, Department of Demography at the University of California, Berkeley. The Department of Demography at the University of California, Berkeley seeks candidates for a full-time faculty position to begin in fall semester 2012. This is an open-rank search with rank depending on the successful candidate's experience and record. Applicants are expected to have earned a doctorate in demography or a related field. Candidates should have a distinguished or very promising program of research and teaching, familiarity with formal demography and demographic theory, and leadership potential. Application deadline: October 17, 2011.

Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology-Institute for Latin American Studies, University of Texas at Austin. The Sociology Department at the University of Texas at Austin in collaboration with the Teresa Lozano Long Institute of Latin American Studies (LLILAS), seeks applications for a tenure track position at the level of Assistant or Associate Professor starting in Fall 2012. The successful applicant will have strong research experience and evidence of scholarly excellence in the sociology of Latin America and/or the Caribbean, with substantive expertise in the sociology of development (broadly defined). Application deadline: October 21, 2011.
Research Associate, Obesity and Environment, Carolina Population Center. The Carolina Population Center invites applicants for a research associate (1003882) with expertise in longitudinal and multilevel complex statistical modeling. Extensive experience with longitudinal modeling techniques (e.g., fixed effects, hazard modeling, and/or econometric modeling) is required. Application deadline: October 31, 2011.

PAA Fellowship. The Population Association of America is delighted to announce a new opportunity for PAA members: Participation in the prestigious Science and Technology Fellowship Program of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). This fellowship provides an exciting opportunity for researchers to come to Washington, DC and use population science, outside of the academic setting, to inform public policy and work for one year in a federal agency. Application deadline: December 15, 2011.

Postdoctoral Research Associate/The Center for Health and Wellbeing (CHW), Princeton University. The Center for Health and Wellbeing (CHW), part of the Woodrow Wilson School, invites outstanding researchers to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates (0110625) for the 2012-2013 year. Applications are welcome from researchers in a variety of disciplines, including medicine, psychology, biology, epidemiology, economics, sociology, and related social science disciplines. Application deadline: December 15, 2011.

Postdoctoral Research Associate/Program in Global Health and Health Policy, Princeton University. The interdisciplinary Program in Global Health and Health Policy, administered by the Woodrow Wilson School, invites outstanding researchers to apply for appointment as a Postdoctoral Research Associate (0110623). We seek strong interdisciplinary candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: demography, economics, epidemiology, disease ecology, public health, vaccines. Application deadline: December 31, 2011.

Population Council's Bixby Fellowship Program. Through a generous grant from the Fred H. Bixby Foundation, the Population Council has created the Bixby Fellowship Program to expand opportunities for recently trained social scientists and biomedical researchers in the health and population fields. Bixby fellowships allow citizens of developing countries to work with experienced mentors in the Council's international network of offices. Fellows work on projects in the Council’s three program areas: Reproductive Health, HIV/AIDS, and Poverty, Gender and Youth. Application deadline: January 15, 2012.

NICHD Postdoctoral Traineeship, Population Research Center, University of Texas at Austin. The Population Research Center (PRC) at The University of Texas at Austin will have two openings for NICHD-funded postdoctoral positions starting September 1, 2012. Research is concentrated in four thematic areas: Health Disparities, Educational Inequality & Opportunity, Partnership, Parenting, & Human Development, and Work and Stratification. Postdoctoral fellows must have a PhD in sociology, demography, public health, family studies or a related social science discipline. Application deadline: January 28, 2012.

NIH Postdoctoral Fellowship, Office of Population Research at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University invites applications for an NIH postdoctoral fellowship. Candidates must have completed an MD or a PhD in demography, sociology, statistics, or other relevant field before appointment. Application deadline: February 1, 2012.

Post Doctoral Research Associate, Office of Population Research at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University is seeking a postdoctoral researcher to work on a project that examines the biological pathways linking social and economic factors to health among older cohorts in Taiwan. Application deadline: March 15, 2012.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES
Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to Ph.D. students in all social science graduate fields (including Statistics). Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student’s special committee is a CPC affiliate. Course requirements include: Demographic Techniques (PAM 6060/DSOC 6080); Demography Pro-Seminar (PAM/DSOC 6720); and at least one additional graduate-level course (500 level or higher) with clear demographic content and focus. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Geysa Smiljanic (5-7772). Professor David Brown (dlb17 or 5-3164) is the minor field’s director.
