CALL FOR PAPERS

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Hispanic Poverty and Inequality Grant Competition. The Stanford Center on Poverty and Inequality (CPI), seeks to support research that will expand our knowledge of key trends in poverty, inequality, and mobility among Hispanics in the U.S. The CPI anticipates funding 5 proposals with a maximum award of $25,000 each. Application deadline: December 15, 2012.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES
Research Fellow/Research Associate, Minnesota Population Center. The Minnesota Population Center (MPC) seeks to fill three openings for researchers (research fellow or research associate) to conduct research, investigate data issues, and participate as members of the IPUMS-CPS, IHIS, and/or ATUS-X research teams, respectively. Open until filled.

Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology & El Instituto, University of Connecticut. The Sociology Department at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a tenure track position to begin August 23, 2013 (Search #2013182). The successful candidate will be jointly appointed with the El Instituto. The successful candidate will pursue rigorous research programs, contribute to graduate and undergraduate teaching, provide service to the university and the profession, and seek external funds to support their scholarly activities. Candidates must have an earned PhD in Sociology by August 23, 2013; research that focuses on Latino populations in the United States; ability to teach qualitative research methods; and substantive research interests in at least one of the following areas of specialization: health and health care organization; gender and sexuality, labor, family, criminology. Application deadline: November 15, 2012.
Senior Research Officer, Department of Sociology, University of Essex. Work as part of a team on the research project ‘Migration Histories of Turks in Europe’ (LineUp), which is funded by the NORFACE (New Opportunities for Research Funding Agency Co-operation in Europe). This international collaborative research involves partners from the UK, Germany, and Netherlands. A doctorate in sociology, economics, demography or a related social science discipline and high-level skills in organising and analysing complex data from large scale surveys are essential. Application deadline: November 18, 2012.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, McGill University. Applications are invited for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position, commencing August 1, 2013. (While the appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, appointment at the rank of Associate may be possible under exceptional circumstances.) We are looking to expand our strength in the area of Population Dynamics. Within this substantive area, all research foci are of interest. However, research on critical issues in developing countries such as fertility and urbanization is particularly welcome. This position is part of an initiative in the Faculty of Arts to become a major centre for research and teaching on population dynamics. Ability to teach quantitative methods (including demographic methods) is expected. Application deadline: November 23, 2012.

Goethe International Postdoc Programme. The Goethe International Post-Doc Programme (GO-IN) is a fellowship programme at the Goethe University (Frankfurt/Main, Germany) designed to attract excellent junior researchers from all nationalities. The fellows will be able to work on an independent research topic at the IDEAS center. They will receive support through an elaborate mentoring system and have access to an extensive qualification programme to further develop their key abilities. Application deadline: November 30, 2012.

AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships. The AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships are opportunities for professional development and public service. They are operated by AAAS as part of its mandate to “advance science and serve society.” The aim is to foster scientifically informed, evidence-based policy and practice by involving scientists and engineers from a broad range of disciplines, backgrounds and career stages to engage their knowledge and analytical skills while learning first-hand about policymaking and implementation at the federal level; and to build leadership for a strong S&T enterprise that benefits all people. Application deadline: December 5, 2012.

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor – Child Health Policy, Cornell University. The Department of Policy Analysis and Management in the College of Human Ecology is seeking to hire faculty with particular interest in child health and wellbeing, for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at any level: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor. Candidates should have a strong background and interest in research and teaching in child health and wellbeing. A Ph.D. in developmental psychology, public policy, sociology, or other related field is required. Application deadline: December 31, 2013.

Assistant Professor, School of Social and Behavioral Sciences (Sociology), Arizona State University. The New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences at Arizona State University invites applications for the tenure track position of Assistant Professor in Sociology with an emphasis on structures of class inequality. Applicants must have expertise in class inequality in global contexts, including the U.S. Of particular interest are scholars who explore inequality using historic, comparative, extended case and/or institutional ethnographic methods in their research. To qualify applicants must have a PhD in Sociology by August, 2013, evidence of an ongoing research program and level of publication consistent with experience, and evidence of successful college/university teaching. Application deadline: January 7, 2012.

Postdoctoral Fellow, Population Studies Center, University of Michigan. PSC expects to have openings for postdoctoral fellows sponsored by NIA. Positions to start on or about September 1, 2013. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, public health, or one of the social sciences (e.g., sociology, economics, psychology) at the starting date. Application deadline: January 14, 2013.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, National Research University (Russia). The National Research University Higher School of Economics is seeking to make several appointments at the level of Assistant Professor in Sociology – for its Faculty of Sociology in Moscow or the HSE branches in St. Petersburg, Nizhny Novgorod, and Perm. We welcome candidates with excellent backgrounds in all sub-fields and a proven ability to conduct high-level research based upon empirical techniques using appropriate research designs and methods. A working knowledge of Russian would be an asset although teaching will be in English. The tenure-track appointments will start in September 2013, for 3 years in the first instance. Application deadline: January 15, 2013.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Duke Population Research Institute. The purpose of this postdoctoral research training program, sponsored by a training grant from the National Institute on Aging, is to provide rigorous training in the general fields of social, medical, and economic demography of aging. Application deadline: January 28, 2013.

Fred H. Bixby Fellowship Program. Through a generous grant from the Fred H. Bixby Foundation, the Population Council created the Bixby Fellowship Program to expand opportunities for recently trained social scientists and biomedical researchers in the health and population fields. More than 20 fellows have participated in the program since 2007, and applications are currently being sought for the 2013 competition. Bixby fellowships allow citizens of developing countries to work with experienced mentors in the Council's international network of offices. Fellows work on projects in the Council’s three program areas: Reproductive Health, HIV/AIDS, and Poverty, Gender and Youth. Application deadline: January 31, 2013.

RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging. The RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging enables outstanding junior scholars in demographic and aging research to sharpen their analytic skills, learn to communicate research results effectively, and advance their research agenda. Housed within RAND Labor and Population, the program blends formal and informal training and extensive collaboration with distinguished researchers in a variety of disciplines. Fellowships are for one year, renewable for a second. Each fellow receives a competitive annual stipend, travel stipend and health insurance. Application deadline: February 22, 2013.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES
Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student’s special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

Graduate Assistantships/Fellowships. Graduate Assistantships/Fellowships are available for Ph.D. and M.S. students to conduct innovative and high-impact research in the Center for Systems Integration and Sustainability (CSIS) at Michigan State University. Apply ASAP.
2013-2014 IAF Fellowship Competition. Fellowships are available to currently registered students who have advanced to candidacy (by the time research begins) for the Ph.D. in the social sciences, physical sciences, technical fields and the professions as related to grassroots development issues. Awards are based on both development and scholarly criteria. Proposals should offer a practical orientation to field-based information. Application deadline: January 22, 2013.

International Research Travel Grant. The Mario Einaudi Center and its associated Programs sponsor the International Research Travel Grants. These grants provide travel support for Cornell University graduate students conducting short-term research and/or field work in countries outside the United States. Applicants must be enrolled in an approved Ph.D or Masters degree program at Cornell University. They must also show proof that they have applied for funding from the Director of Graduate Studies in their own fields of study. Application deadline: Early February, 2013.
