CALLS FOR PAPERS

SABE, the Society for the Advancement of Behavioral Economics, August 2-5, 2010 in San Diego. Deadline for submission is March 15, 2010.

2010 APPAM Fall Research Conference, "Making Fair and Effective Policy in Difficult Times," November, 4-6, 2010, Boston, MA. The online proposal system will open February 22-March 18, 2010. Please submit panels, papers, roundtables, and workshops for the conference as soon as possible ahead of the deadline.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Graduate Research Assistant Support for CPP Affiliates. The Cornell Population Program (CPP) invites applications from faculty for Graduate Research Assistant (GRA) support for the 2010-2011 Academic year. Up to 4 one-semester GRAs (15 hours per week) will be funded during AY 2010-2011, and faculty may apply for 1 or 2 semesters. Eligibility is limited to full-time CPP faculty affiliates. Faculty are encouraged, whenever possible, to provide some cost-share (e.g., matching monies from grants, departments/colleges, or other funding sources). However, this is not a requirement for funding. Electronic versions of your application should be submitted to Carrie Chalmers, Admin. Asst., CPP/BLCC at cc284@cornell.edu. Deadline: April 1, 2010.

BLCC Innovative Research Project Grants. Research funding is available from the BLCC Innovative Research Program. Cornell faculty are eligible to receive small grants of up to $10,000 in support of their research on life course related issues. Deadline: April 2, 2010.

Call for Research Abstracts: MacArthur Foundation. In the 2010 competition, the MacArthur Foundation seeks to expand further the body of empirical evidence on the difference that living in decent and affordable housing makes in the lives of children, their families and communities; and with a special emphasis on how such evidence can be put to use by decision-makers to strengthen policies and programs. Deadline: Applicants should submit electronically an abstract of the proposed research by March 22, 2010 (6 p.m. Central Standard Time).

Call for Proposals: IRP RIDGE Center for National Food and Nutrition Assistance Research. This call for proposals is for 2010-2011 Institute for Research on Poverty (IRP) RIDGE Center for National Food and Nutrition Assistance Research grants. The deadline is April 30, 2010, for submission of applications for the 2010-2011 award period, which runs from July 1, 2010, through December 31, 2011.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES
Professor-Researcher. The Centre Urbanisation Culture Société in Montréal, Canada is seeking a Professor-Researcher on the topic of family. Working language is French. Deadline for applying is March 8, 2010.

Faculty Position in Women’s Health (Assistant Professor). The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston (UTMB) is recruiting to fill a faculty position with a primary appointment in the Department of Preventive Medicine and Community Health (PMCH) and an affiliation with UTMB’s Center for Interdisciplinary Research in Women’s Health (CIRWH). The position will start on or before September 1, 2010 contingent on receipt of funding; review of applications will begin April 1, 2010. Send materials to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Kyriakos Markides (kmarkide@utmb.edu). Applicants must also submit an application and CV online.

CPP STUDENT SECTION
Opportunities
New CPP Demography Minor
The CPP Demography Minor has been approved and students are signing up! Admission to the demography minor requires that at least one member of the student’s special committee is a CPP affiliate. Course requirements include one demographic methods course (PAM 606/DSoc 608 or their equivalent), and at least one additional course from a list of specialized graduate level demographic courses.

Workshops
CPP Workshop on Multilevel Modeling
The CPP Statistics Core is in the process of arranging a workshop on multilevel modeling, given by Steve Raudenbush from the University of Chicago. Steve teaches workshops all over the world to a variety of audiences; his workshops are well known for their content and quality. To better meet the needs of a diverse audience, he recommended that the first day be somewhat more introductory in nature and the second day be focused on more advanced topics. The CPP Statistics Core will cover the cost of the workshop for CPP affiliated faculty, staff and students. Registration for the workshop is now open; if you desire to attend, please respond to Carrie Chalmers as soon as possible, preferably by Monday, March 8, 2010. Given the proximity of the workshop to graduation (May 30), we would like to reserve an adequately sized room well in advance.

Postdoc Opportunities
Postdoctoral Fellowship at the Cornell Population Program. The Cornell Population Program (CPP) invites applicants for the newly funded Frank H.T. Rhodes Post-doctoral Fellowships. The start date for the position will be August 16, 2010 and will be funded for 2 years, subject to a satisfactory first year evaluation. Preference will be given to fellows with research interests in areas broadly related to the CPP’s three main foci: families & children, health behaviors & disparities, or poverty/inequality. Fellows will have access to the full range of university resources and receive an annual stipend of $50,000 plus health benefits and a modest research/travel account. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, economics, sociology, or another related social science discipline by August 16, 2010. Screening of applications begins March 1, 2010, and will continue until the position is filled.

Postdoctoral Research Associate at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University is seeking a postdoctoral researcher to work on a project that examines the biological pathways linking social and economic factors to health among older cohorts in Taiwan. Applications will be considered starting March 15, 2010.

International Center for Research on Women Gender and Population Post-Doctoral Fellowship. ICRW is offering a post-doctoral fellowship for a social scientist with gender and population expertise at its Washington, DC office. The fellow will work directly with the Vice President for Research, Innovation, and Impact and other DC-based research staff at ICRW who focus on international gender and population issues, as well as with experts in this area from other organizations and academic institutions. The fellow will make substantive contributions to a research project examining the impact of fertility decline on women’s empowerment in developing countries and participate in ICRW’s program and policy-oriented research on adolescents. Open until filled.
