EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES
Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Massachusetts-Amherst. The Department of Sociology invites applications for an Assistant Professor Fall 2011 tenure-track position. The position is open area, although we seek to build strengths in social theory and global/transnational sociology. Applicants should have firm expectations of a completed Ph.D. by September 2011 and be eager to join an intellectually lively, diverse, growing department. Applications received before October 1st will receive full consideration.

Vice President for Research—Population Action International. Population Action International is recruiting a person with strong management and research skills to lead the organization’s program on reproductive health and population policy. The candidate would lead the organization’s research department and direct its climate change program. To apply: email resume, cover letter and salary history to Rachael Murray Rakestraw at or fax to 202-728-4177. Inquiries will be kept in strict confidence. Applications will be accepted until this search is completed.

Assistant or Associate Professor of Demography, University of Western Ontario, (Department of Sociology). Applications are invited for a Probationary, tenure track position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level beginning 1 July 2011. The successful candidate must have expertise in the field of formal demography, the ability to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in Demographic Modeling and Methods as well as Quantitative Methods and Statistics, and a strong substantive research program that would contribute to the focus of the Population Studies program at Western in the areas of life course studies, longevity/mortality/health, family demography, or migration. Deadline for applications: November 1, 2010.

CPP AFFILIATES IN THE NEWS

Leadership changes
CPP Associate Director, David L. Brown, will be stepping down from this position to become the chair of Development Sociology. David provided strong leadership over the past several years, playing a key role in developing our training mission. Associate Professor of Development Sociology, Parfait M. Eloundou-Enyegue, will be the new Associate Director for the CPP. Parfait received his Ph.D. in Demography and Rural Sociology in 1997 from Penn State University. Because of his research interests in demographic transitions in sub-Saharan Africa, his leadership role will facilitate connections with our many affiliates who work on demographic issues in developing countries.

New CPP affiliates
Bongoh (BK) Kye, CPP Postdoctoral Associate. BK Kye received the first Frank H.T. Rhodes Post-doctoral Fellowship. He received his Ph.D. in Sociology in 2010 from the University of California, Los Angeles. His research interests include Demography, Social Stratification, Family, and Quantitative Methods. BK’s research examines how differences in demographic behaviors such as marriage and childbearing contribute to the reproduction of social inequality. Professors Kelly Musick, Department of Policy Analysis and Management and Stephen Morgan, Department of Sociology will be BK’s mentors while in residence.

Robert Plotnick, Visiting Professor, Fall 2010. Robert Plotnick is a Professor of Public Affairs, Evans School of Public Affairs at the University of Washington. He also serves as an adjunct professor in the University of Washington’s Department of Economics. Bob is a research affiliate with the West Coast Poverty Center at the Evans School, Center for Studies in Demography and Ecology at the UW, and the Institute for Research on Poverty at the University of Wisconsin. His current research projects address the effects of being childless on the health and economic well-being of the elderly, the impact of bridge and highway tolls on low-income families in the Puget Sound region, and differences in poverty among single parent male and female headed families.
Welcome Parfait, BK, and Bob!

CPP STUDENT SECTION

CPP Graduate Student Workshop, October 7, 2010. More details to come.

Fred H. Bixby Fellowship Program. Through a generous grant from the Fred H. Bixby Foundation, the Population Council has created the Bixby Fellowship Program to expand opportunities for recently trained social scientists and biomedical researchers in the health and population fields. Bixby fellowships allow citizens of developing countries to work with experienced mentors in the Council’s international network of offices. Fellows work on projects in one of three program areas: Reproductive Health, HIV/AIDS, and Poverty, Gender and Youth. Application deadline is January 15, 2011.

Postdoctoral Fellowships, National Poverty Center. The Research and Training Program on Poverty and Public Policy provides under-represented scholars in the social sciences the opportunity to spend one to two years conducting research and pursuing extensive training at the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy. Application deadline is January 14, 2011 at 5:00pm (EST).
